

Welcome to Propane Ninja, your ultimate destination for all your propane needs in sunny Florida! I'm Mike, and I'm thrilled to share our story with you.

As a proud Floridian, born and raised right here in the Sunshine State, I have a deep connection to our local community. I understand the unique requirements and challenges when it comes to propane and its various applications, whether it's powering generators, heating water for your home, or creating the perfect outdoor living space.

My partner, Peter, brings an interesting twist to the mix. He was born in Kenya and later moved to Florida, where he was raised. Despite his international origins, Peter has fully embraced the Florida lifestyle and developed a strong bond with our community. His diverse background and experiences bring a fresh perspective to Propane Ninja.

Together, we make a dynamic team, united by our shared passion for propane and its incredible potential as a clean and affordable energy source. This shared vision is what led us to establish Propane Ninja—to make a positive impact right here in our community. Whether you need a reliable propane-powered generator to keep your home running during power outages or a high-efficiency water heater for those luxurious hot showers, we've got you covered.
